DACC Newsletter

July 2014

Dear <<First Name>>,

Let us begin this month's newsletter by emphasizing that we hope you take advantage of what DACC has to offer you as a member!

DACC members have exclusive opportunities to use our media channels to help you get the word out about your company's achievements, job openings and other similar news.

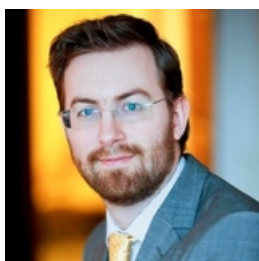

Interested in highlighting your company on our website or in this newsletter going out to 400+ professionals in the Tri-State Area?

Simply contact the DACC Secretariat at daccny@daccny.com

Likewise, we are proud to present DACC's newly introduced Expertise Gateway Program giving present and future members access to DACC's pool of talent - read more in the left column.

While we don't have any events this month, we are working on an event schedule for the fall that will be just as inspiring and informative as in the first half of 2014!

If you have any questions or suggestions to events DACC might facilitate, do not hesitate to contact the DACC secretariat.

DACC is Growing

New Member:

Henrik Holm Pedersen

The Expertise Gateway Program is an opportunity for present and future members to get access to specialized knowledge within our members' fields of expertise - free of charge. For donors, the program is an opportunity to showcase and generate publicity around your own business, your expertise, and to help you grow your network. You and your business will be listed on DACC's website and various other outlets that advertise the program.

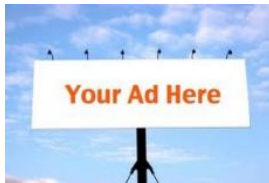

Currently, four DACC members are donors in the Expertise Gateway Program and offer their extensive business expertise within their respective industries.

Membership Spotlight

Airshells

The Danish company Airshells Denmark has for the past 6 years expanded within a niche in the travel industry. Their product, at hard case protecting fragile baggage such as prams, strollers and wheelchairs during air travel, saves airlines reimbursement costs and generates revenue for the airlines while improving customer satisfaction.

With its massive growth the past years Airshells is now present in more than 70 airports throughout Europe and strives to expand their presence to several new airports. Airshells' global ambitions have led them to the US where the company has entered into dialogue with some of the largest American airlines. The first result will show this month where Airshells begins cooperation with United Airlines serving United Airlines passengers from all airports in the US.

Airshells was founded in 2005 by former baggage handler Kim Christensen who is today the CEO of the company.
