On the threshold of Hannukah and with Christmas just around corner, we want to use the opportunity to wish you all happy holidays and a happy new year.

We had the pleasure to celebrate Christmas with more than 100 members and guests on December 5th for our annual Christmas Luncheon at the Harvard Club in New York. During the event we captured the great atmosphere on camera, and the pictures are as usual uploaded on Facebook for you to see. We welcome all feedback on the event, as it helps us improve Christmas Luncheon every year. The survey is open until Friday, so if you joined us for the Christmas celebration, you still have the chance to tell us what you think. Again we would like to thank our sponsors as well as participants in our silent auction.

December was also the month when we visited Bloomberg News. Here the Danish journalist Nikolaj Gammeltoft invited us in for a tour around the company's headquarter and demonstration of the complex technology behind the company's news channels. Pictures from the event are also on Facebook.

For the culturally inclined, we would like to direct the attention to the Royal Danish Ballet performing in New York in January with the special Bourmonville Celebration Tour. A group of 11 elite dancers from the Royal Danish Ballet, led by Solo Dancer Ulrik Birkkjaer, will be performing. The opening night is on January 13th. Further, you can experience Carl Nielsen's 150th Anniversary Kick-Off in New York on January 8-13. You can read more about both events in this newsletter.

Dual Citizenship Will Soon Become a Possibility for Danes Living Abroad and for Foreigners Living in Denmark.

By Eva Gregers Jorgensen

After many decades of not being able to fully integrate in their new countries without having to revoke their native citizenships it will soon be possible for Danes living abroad and for foreigners living in Denmark to enjoy the benefits of dual citizenship.

On December 18th, 2014, the Danish Parliament is set to pass a bill which will allow dual citizenship. The law will, however, not take effect until September 1st, 2015, and for Danes living abroad this means that they cannot start applying for their new citizenships until then, without legally revoking their Danish citizenships.

The law will provide possibility for Danes who already applied for another citizenship (and thereby by default revoked their Danish ditto) to apply to regain their Danish citizenship. Such application must be made within 5 years of the law taking effect.

Similarly to Danes who want to apply for a new country's
