DACC January 2015

Dear <<First Name>>,

We hope that you have all enjoyed the Holidays and made it well into the New Year!

We are excited to get started on 2015—it will be an eventful year!

The Young Professionals Network grew significantly in 2014 and we have a number of events planned for 2015. To kick off 2015, we are thrilled to announce that the next event will be at the New York Stock Exchange on February 11.

For general members, we have arranged an event with Torsten Slok, Chief International Economist at Deutsche Bank. The topic for this event will be the outlook for the U.S. economy in 2015 and the details and date for the event will be announced in the very near future. On a related note, for those with an interest in economics, the European-American Chambers of Commerce is hosting an event with a panel debate on economic development in Europe and the U.S. The event is free for DACC members and will be held on January 22.

For the culturally inclined, we highly recommend the upcoming concert with the Danish National

The Danish National Symphony Orchestra on US Tour

On February 11, the Danish National Symphony Orchestra will perform at Carnegie Hall with world-renowned violinist Anne-Sophie Mutter. The Danish National Symphony Orchestra will perform Nielsen's Symphony No. 4, "The Inextinguishable" and Sibelius's 'Valse triste', and Anne-Sophie Mutter will perform Sibelius's 'Violin Concerto' with the orchestra.

Nielsen's "Inextinguishable" Symphony is an intense orchestral journey from despair to victory, featuring a dramatic duel between two sets of timpani in the final section before the triumphant finale. Also a study in intense energy, Sibelius's Violin Concerto is famous for the opening hair-raising cadenza that's a virtuosic high-wire act for the soloist.

The Danish National Symphony Orchestra was founded as a radio orchestra in 1925 in connection with the launch of the Danish Broadcasting Corporation (DR), and consists today of 99 musicians. Read more about the orchestra here.

braggingforwomen is launching in New York

Creator and Founder of braggingforwomen, Lena Beck Rørvig is launching her new concept in New York City, January 27th 2015.

What is braggingforwomen? The mission for Creator & Founder Lena Beck Rørvig is to give women the tools, guidance and encouragement to advocate for themselves at their workplace. Give them the confidence and inspiration to be proud of who they are and what they have, and can, accomplish.

By Lena Beck Rørvig:

"I am very excited about this new wave towards gender neutral workplaces we are experiencing right now. My dream with the braggingforwomen concept is to not only encourage change towards equal opportunities, but give directly implementable options for the individual woman and the companies.

Our concept will help women evolve into the most authentic and powerful versions of themselves. Companies will, with our tailored programs, be able to take advantage of the fact that gender equality is good business. Our corporate programs work both with the women to strengthen their skills and with the management to develop an inclusive environment."
