DACCNY January 2017

Dear <<First Name>>,

We hope that you have all enjoyed the Holidays and made it well into the new year!

We are excited to get started on 2017—it will be an eventful year!

While we still have the taste of Christmas pudding (or snaps) fresh in our minds, we are already now marking our calendars for this year's Annual DACC Christmas Luncheon at the Harvard Club, which will take place on December 8, 2017.

As an effort to accommodate and grow DACCNY's younger membership, we are re-launching our Young Professional membership level with new lower dues of $25/year and a renewed focus on creating networking opportunities for a younger audience. Help spread the word among your young employees, interns, friends, and acquaintances. More to come over the next months.

Please find a word from our incoming chair Anne-Mette Andersen below.

We kick off the year with an exciting event on January 19 where Deutsche Bank Chief International Economist Torsten Sløk will provide us with an outlook on the U.S. economy and shed some light on the potential consequences of President-Elect Donald Trump's promised efforts to "make America great again". As always these events are extremely popular, and unfortunately we are already at capacity.

You should also expect invitations for a great number of

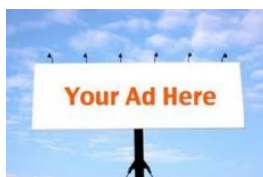

Danske Markets

A Word from Our Incoming Chair

Dear DACC Members,

At our recent board meeting, Peter Frederiksen stepped down as chairman after having served for a number of years. We are lucky to still have him as a regular board member. I, in turn, stepped down as president and was elected as the new chair and Christian Schoenberg was elected as our new president and Flemming Kristensen and Henrik Jensen were re-elected as secretary and treasurer, respectively. All of us look forward to serving you in our new positions.

We have a number of excellent events on the drawing board and look forward to seeing you at these events. If any of you would like to host events or have ideas for specific events you would like to attend, please reach out to Christian or me with your suggestions.

Best wishes for a happy and prosperous 2017!

Anne-Mette Elkjær Andersen
 DACCN Chair
