DANISH-AMERICAN CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

NEWSLETTER

December, 2017

Greetings,

Christmas and New Year's Eve are just around the corner and we want to thank all our members and friends of DACCCNY for this past year.

As we embark on our 87th year in existence as the successor of the Danish Luncheon Club (established in New York City in 1931). The world looked very different back then, but because of the steadfast support of our members, the Chamber remains as relevant as ever.

This year we've had an impressive number of exciting events - we applaud and thank everyone who made them happen.

Looking toward 2018, we will hit the ground running with a January 18 event featuring Deutsche Bank Chief International Economist Torsten Slok. Torsten will hold a talk and all of you in the new year.

The DACC Secretariat will be closed from Christmas until January 2.

Our best wishes for a joyful Holiday and a happy New Year!

Yours sincerely,

Marianne Honoré
General Manager, DACCNY Secretariat

DECEMBER EVENTS

DACCNY ANNUAL CHRISTMAS LUNCHEON

Thank you to all who attended and supported the annual Danish-American Chamber of Commerce Christmas Luncheon on December 8, at the Harvard Club.

The luncheon is DACCNY's biggest and most fun event of the year and helps to introduce prospective, new, and old members to the organization and to each other. Our Christmas Messenger and sponsorships remain some of the most cherished components of the event.

We cannot thank our sponsors enough for supporting our business community.

Special thanks goes out to our Guest of Honor Christian Vollerslev, Chief Commercial Officer for Dentsu Aegis Network US, for his participation and Christmas Message.

UPCOMING EVENTS

Trumponomics - A 2018 U.S. Economic Outlook by Torsten Sløk Chief International Economist at Deutsche Bank

Join us when Djøf New York and the Danish-American Chamber of Commerce invite you for another exciting evening with Torsten Sløk. Torsten Sløk, Chief International Economist and Managing Director at Deutsche Bank Securities, has generously agreed to share his thoughts on what we might expect from the U.S. and world economies in 2018, as the curtain is raised for the second year of the current administration. So far, the markets have been in positive territory despite the confusion and uncertainty emanating from and caused by President Trump's daily Twitter feed. But what will the future bring? And what will it take to continue the positive market trend?

During the election campaign, Donald Trump promised major changes that would Make America Great Again. Promises whose manifestation remains elusive.

Republicans promise growth and tax cuts; Democrats predict the opposite. But what consequences do economists outside the Beltway predict this new reform might have? And how about the promises of more jobs, improved infrastructure, greater military investment, reduced regulation, and new trade agreements?

All factors that will have an impact on the United States and the world's economic future. After the talk, there will be an opportunity to ask Torsten questions.

The evening will continue with networking at a nearby bar - location to be determined.

There is a limited number of seats – it's first-come first-served.

When: Thursday January 18, 2017 – 6:00-8:30 PM.

Where: Deutsche Bank 60 Wall St. New York, NY 10005

Program:

6:00-6:15 PM – Networking

6:15-7:00 PM – Presentation by Torsten Sløk followed by Q&A

7:00-8:30 PM – Networking at nearby bar - location TBD.

Price: Free
